

WONDERLAND PROJECT

A Soulstice Films Release (60 min.)

The Wonderland Project is the name that two friends gave their shared goal: to run the Wonderland Trail, circumnavigating Washington's Mt. Rainier in a single 24-hour push. Until their attempt, the published record on the 94-mile trail was 27 hours and 56 minutes.

Non-competitive ultramarathon runners Skye Thompson and Zac West forged their friendship into a critical partnership over two years of training. Things took a bitter turn at mile 60, when escalating joint pain forced a decision on the pair: continue slowly and painfully, or split up and still have a chance at breaking the record.

2 trailrunners, 24 hours,
94 miles, 22,000 vertical.
